Amr

7. Counselling session will begin officially with a brief statement on the available seats.
8. Counselling shall be done on merit basis.
9. The candidate whose names are being called out shall report to the Selection Board in person or via Video Conference or through telephone call with the number of the CMO/ Nodal Officer.
10. The courses shall be allotted in the following sequence:
 - a. MBBS seats (Government quota).
 - b. BDS seats (Government quota).
 - c. MBBS seats (Management and NRI quota at SAHS).
11. First, selection of candidates for the three horizontal reservations will be done – Meritorious Sportsperson (2 seats), Ex-Servicemen or Child of Armed Forces (2 seats) and PwD (5% of total seats). Seats of the candidates selected in horizontal reservation shall be kept reserved in their respective vertical categories of the course chosen. However, Institutes shall be allotted on merit basis of the candidates in the respective vertical categories.
12. Next, selection of candidates for the UR seats will be done. A meritorious OBC/SC/ST candidate selected in UR category is called a Meritorious Reserved Candidate (MRC). If an MRC does not like the college where the UR seat is available, he/she may choose a reserved seat in a different college. And, in doing so, the UR seat rejected by him/her shall be marked for the specific reserved category. This exercise leaves the total seat distribution among the reservation categories undisturbed. Later, if the MRC surrenders his/her seat, an UR seat will become vacant again.
13. After filling up the UR seats, selection of candidates may be done in the following order:
 - a. ST category
 - b. OBC (M) category
 - c. OBC (MP) category
 - d. OBC(T/N) category
 - e. SC category
14. Management and NRI quota seats in SAHS shall be filled purely on merit basis.
15. Nomination letters of the selected candidates may be collected from the Directorate Office. Scanned nomination letters may also be made available in the CMO offices.
