PRADESH, 6th FLOOR, JAWAHAR BHAWAN, LUCKNOW.

No. ME-3/2020/ 2451

Lucknow: Dated || December 2020

-:: Important Instructions ::-

- The seat allotment/upgradation in second round would be based on the second round merit list uploaded on the website.
- Both the choice locking password and login password are same as made during registration.
- After filling the choices it is mandatory for the candidates to lock the choices otherwise they would not be considered for allotment of the seat.
- If an admitted candidate fills a choice and does not get any seat, the seat already admitted to him would be retained.
- If an admitted candidate gets a new college after choice filling, his previously allotted seat of first round of counseling would automatically stand cancelled and he would have no right on that previous seat which was allotted in first round of counseling.
- Candidates who are already admitted in any college need NOT fill the same choice as their already admitted college.
- If a candidate fills the same choice as their already admitted college of first round of counseling and incase he again gets the same college in the second round, even then he/she will have to present himself at the admission nodal center for the verification of the seat.
- All candidates who get seat allotted in second round of counseling shall report to the admission nodal center and complete the admission procedure there.
- If the seat of the minority colleges remain vacant during second round of counseling then those seats would be filled by the unreserve (general) open category candidates.
- Seat surrendered by All India counseling have been added in the second round of counseling as state quota seat and those seats are being displayed.
- Those candidates who are allotted seats in first round of counseling and have taken admission and do not want to upgrade themselves need not fill the choices in second round of counseling.
- SAC (Seat Against Cancellation) is a hypothetical seat. The main aim of the displayed seat under the SAC is to take the choices equivalent to category / sub category candidates. If the seat gets upgraded at the time of allotment, the seat would go into the same category / sub category and allotted as per rules on merit cum choice basis.
