1.1 AIIMS, New Delhi

The All India Institute of Medical Sciences is an autonomous Institute of National Importance. It was established by an Act of Parliament of 1956 and its objectives and functions were defined. By virtue of this Act, the Institute awards its own medical degrees, diplomas and other academic distinctions. The degrees and diplomas awarded by the Institute under the All India Institute of Medical Sciences Act are recognized medical qualifications for the purpose of the National Medical Commission Act (2019) (Sl. No. 2 of Schedule, Section 37(1)).

The Institute (AIIMS, New Delhi) is a residential University in which the faculty members, Staff and the students live on campus. There are 11 hostels for undergraduate students (7 for Boys and 4 for girls) with a capacity to accommodate 848 students.

2.1 AIIMS, New Delhi

The prime focus of the Institute (AIIMS) is to develop patterns of teaching in undergraduate and postgraduate medical education in all the branches so as to demonstrate a high standard of medical education to all medical colleges and allied institutions in India. The other important objectives of the Institute are to bring together in one place educational facilities of the highest order for the training of personnel in all the important branches of health care and to attain self-sufficiency in postgraduate medical education. The educational principles and practices being adopted are those which are the best suited to the needs of the country. Adaptation of education to meet the problems of community health is a major preoccupation. To this effect the AIIMS, New Delhi has initiated a model educational programme for rural field practice in the Ballabgarh Community Development Block in collaboration with the Haryana Government. The Institute has also been able to initiate model educational programme in Community Medicine at the urban field practice area in Malviya Nagar, New Delhi. Emphasis is laid on the active learning process and on the cultivation of scholarly habits and scientific methods. The first batch of undergraduate medical students was admitted to the AIIMS, New Delhi in the year 1956. Earlier, the Institute had been admitting 50 students every year. In the 2008 session, the intake was increased to 77 and from 2017 the intake was 107 for the M.B.B.S. course and which was further increased to 132 in 2020. The number of students admitted and number of faculty members is matched to ensure an adequate teacher student ratio. The undergraduate curriculum is constantly reviewed at the Faculty and Staff Council levels and the required changes in the curriculum are brought about in order to evolve a pattern which is the most.

Suitable for the current Indian needs and conditions. Undergraduate medical students get sufficient impetus for higher studies as the Institute provides facilities for postgraduate degrees in almost all the branches of medical sciences. At present, the AIIMS, Delhi is awarding post-graduate degrees/ fellowships in more than 90 different specialties/super-specialties.
